

Cultural Resources Technician (Hourly) Homestead Air Reserve Base, Florida

POSITION

One Cultural Resources Technician (Seasonal Worker, Full-time, 40 hours/week) position is available with the Colorado State University (CSU) Center for Environmental Management of Military Lands (CEMML). This position will provide support to the cultural resources program at Homestead Air Reserve Base (ARB), Florida. This position is intended to provide the successful applicant with exposure to careers in military lands management and cultural resources work experience. The technician will contribute to cultural resource management efforts at Homestead ARB while also learning about the importance of cultural resources management on Department of Defense lands, and the regulatory framework that is used to guide management. Successful applicants will gain entry-level experience on cultural resources research and evaluation under mentorship with cultural resource managers at Homestead ARB. Military affiliation is not required to apply for this position.

ORGANIZATION

CEMML

CEMML is a research, education, and service unit within the Warner College of Natural Resources at CSU. CEMML applies the latest and most appropriate science to promote the sustainable management of natural and cultural resources on Department of Defense (DoD) and other public lands. We provide technical support, conduct applied research, and offer career development and learning opportunities to support resource stewardship. We collaborate with our sponsors and other CSU departments to resolve complex environmental issues, leaving a legacy of science-based decisions that sustain our resources for future generations.
